The background is filled with foliage and more trees, some of which are silhouetted against the bright light.

SOMETIMES THINGS ARE POSSIBLE...

Living OFF THE MAP

is about questioning authority every second, escaping from any sort of control and taking our lives back from who or what have stolen from us.

Nowadays we have got no choice of how to live our own lives, the way we really want to, so we have chosen to live OFF THE MAP.

We are young people who are ready to act, we are inspired to give better alternatives to people. We want to give a body to our political ideas. So, we extract from the big utopia what is possible to do here and today, as we care about the future. We think we should do our best on the living present.

We live in this world but we live OFF THE MAP, that doesn't mean we turned our back on what's happening around us. Instead of that, we support each other and exchange energy to destroy the machine from within. But we do not destroy without a purpose, we want to destroy civilization and create a new better place for all living beings the real harmony on Earth.

We dare to dream and were living our dreams. We imagine a parallel world and we live in that world OFF THE MAP.

We see how the youngest generations fall into alienation everyday, they fall into traps produced by the system, who is the cerebrum of this machiavellian scheme.

In this context, the city (we believe it is the concrete point of our huge antagonism) is the stage of our main actions, but civilization and itself mentality is spread all around the globe. It's in the city that we want to strongly introduce our ideals, as we've learned with past

Our english is not perfect but we believe in communication. Exchanging information is crucial.

Here in this fanzine you'll find a lot of mistakes but that doesn't bother us. What we really care is the message we're trying to pass on to you.

We're from everywhere. We speak all the languages and our effort is to communicate.

experiences that's quite hard we keep resisting because we know its possible to live OFF THE MAP. On abandon houses, after its rebuilding, well be able to live our ideas with people like us. This magical spots are essencial and logic as an answer to all we do not accept, direct and indirectly, and to all we want to refuse: unnecessary and blind consumerism, drugs, addiction to TV and computers, social behaviour as drinking coffee and smoking cigarettes, cool brands, fancy shops/bars, etc and in some short words, what crime is for homeless people or not, taking advantage of empty spaces left on abandon?

We want to restore some integrity and fortify warm social interactions. We invented new ways to have fun, to lead all this energy into something positive, showing that there are alternatives to this urban lifestyle. Guess we should be more together, one more reason to get common places.

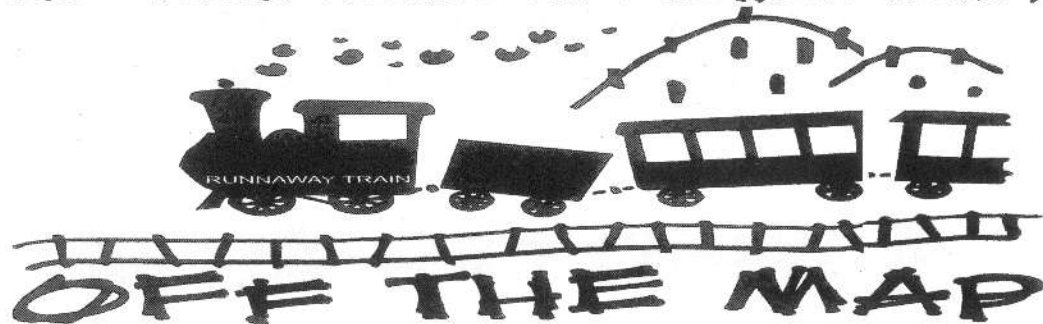

People are living with no love in their hearts, with no dreams and with no goals to reach, only with unconditional fear.

We stand against human apathy, futility, triviality and decontrolled urban evolution.

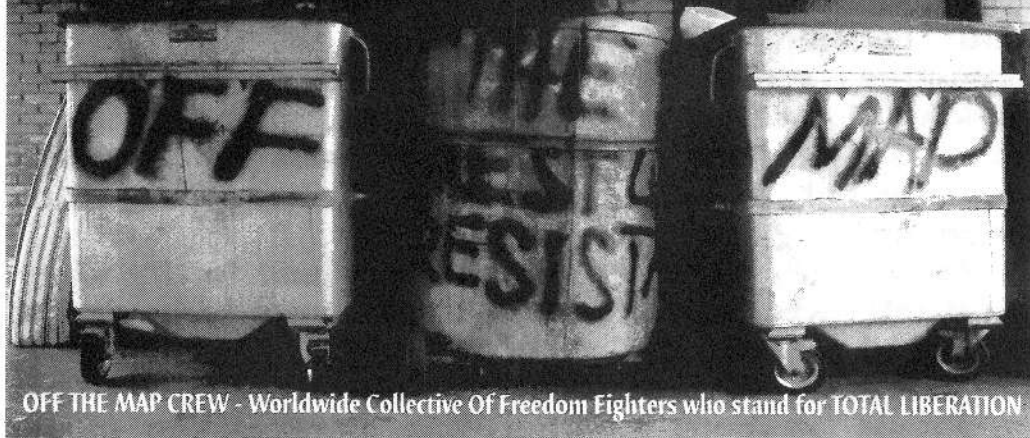

OFF THE MAP is a place free from alienation and oppression, where dreams come true, where we can think for ourselves. Here we filtrate everything that exists beyond the information.

This Restless Spirit will lead us to the final step, which is: self-sufficiency. Start doing it by yourself.

Finding aways to get food for free. To get clothes for free. To live in houses for free. To use public transports for free. To eat in restaurants for free. To go to the cinema for free. TO read books for free. To listen to music for free. To get gasoline for free. To use internet for free... everything's possible for those who BELIEVE. Be Creative and Join the Fight...

...AGAINST CAPITALISM.

One more day and we all fall... one more day and we all die. We're reaching the end, the point of no return.

It's time for us to stand up and fight – TO STAND UP AND FIGHT THE DEATH MACHINE!

The EARTH IS BEING KILLED. She's crying out mercy. Without air, water and food there will be no future. NO FUTURE, NO HOPE.

Destroying our natural environment is global suicide because WAR AGAINST NATURE IS WAR AGAINST OURSELVES.

All life upon Earth turn to dust, giving place to a wasteland of despair. Life's fading away as the days go by and soon we'll be left with nothing but memories.

Men feed on men, brutality in a time of caos, ruined dreams and wasteland. Deserts of death, filthy cities full of zombies and mutant creatures. Blind leading the blind to self destruction. Madness keep us insane. Their lies keep us hypnotized.

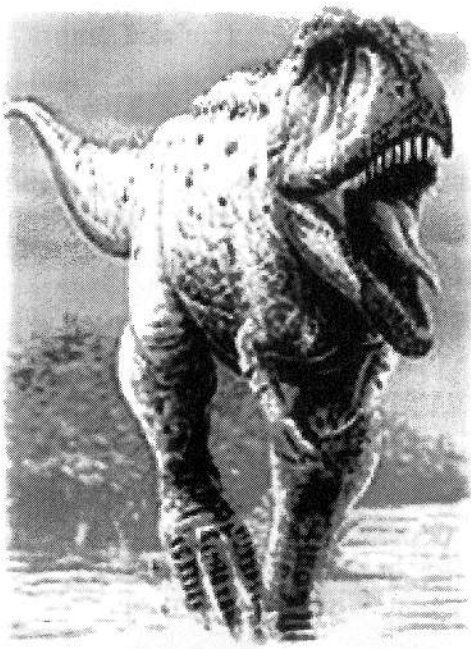

Only action will release us from this hell. Only action will bring us liberation because action will always speaks louder than words.

THE STRUGGLE IS FOR LIFE. It's time to break free, to liberate ourselves, everything and everyone around us. Breaking down the walls of ignorance. We're everywhere and WE WON'T GIVE UP THE FIGHT – NEVER.

.....Human Plague

Humans are responsible for the worst spate of extinctions since the dinosaurs and must make unprecedented extra efforts to reach a goal of slowing losses.

Habitats ranging from coral reefs to tropical rainforests face mounting threats.

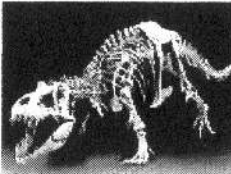

In effect, we are currently responsible for the sixth major extinction event in the history of earth, and the greatest since the dinosaurs disappeared 65 million years ago.

Around 844 animals and plants are known to have become extinct in the last 500 years, ranging from the dodo to the Golden Toad in Costa Rica.

Apart from the disappearance of the dinosaurs, the other "big five" extinctions were about 205, 250, 375 and 440 million years ago. Asteroid strikes, volcanic eruptions or sudden climate shifts may explain each of these.

But now we face a human population of 6.5 billion undermining the environment for animals and plants via pollution, expanding cities, deforestation, introduction of "alien species" and global warming.

CLOSER TO NATURE

"I wanted a farm far away from everywhere, where i could sit or stand or lie down and feel whatever came with the wind and the seasons"

To leave our children a living planet not a filthy city hole we should live closer to what we really believe, CLOSER TO NATURE.

We dream with a piece of land of our own, with pure water to drink and plenty of food to eat, with a house in the middle of the trees, with time for ourselves and no stress at all, with THE PROMISED LAND – where the sun's always shining, where our families multiply and our kids run free and have more contact with NATURE. We do believe in the future.

LIFE SHOULD BE LIVED NOT SURVIVED. Time's too precious and we must find pleasant things to do while we're here on Earth. Let our lives be filled with JOY and HAPPINESS.

We all talk about a better place. What about start building the NEW WORLD right here, right now?

"Someday i'd be far away. I'd build a house of stone in a field and grow vegetables. I'd do everything myself. I'd keep far from the world's cancer."

Let's give it a try!
Let's start small communities in the countryside and live in harmony with MOTHER NATURE. Let's prove they are wrong as we say they are. Let's walk our talk.

We know nothing about plants or the animals or the Earth. We should start reading about it, learn how to grow food, how to work the land, how to build houses, how to take care of ourselves and each other by natural medicine... we must learn how to do everything by ourselves and become as self sufficient as possible. Like this we'll be able to LIVE LITERALLY OFF THE MAP.

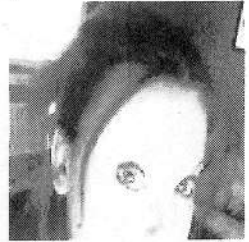

Let's live the time of our lives then...

MySpace's are sexual orientated, too self centred, egocentric and empty – what a shame.

Underground is not for you. Get Out. You don't belong here. This is the Core and you're not welcome. For us and our Worldwide Family of Freedom Fighters this is home. For you and your Sex Appeal and Style this is Hell, and hostile battlefield.

revolutionary hackers

Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal,

Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal, Sex Appeal,

My Space, My Ass!.....

We spend a lifetime in front of computer screens so why are we killing time entertaining our empty souls with bullshit instead of doing something creative and join the International Computer Network Guerrilla?

We can play their game or we can use internet wisely. We have access to everything and like this we can use their own weapons to fight back. Internet can make us powerful but it can make us weak and foolish as well.

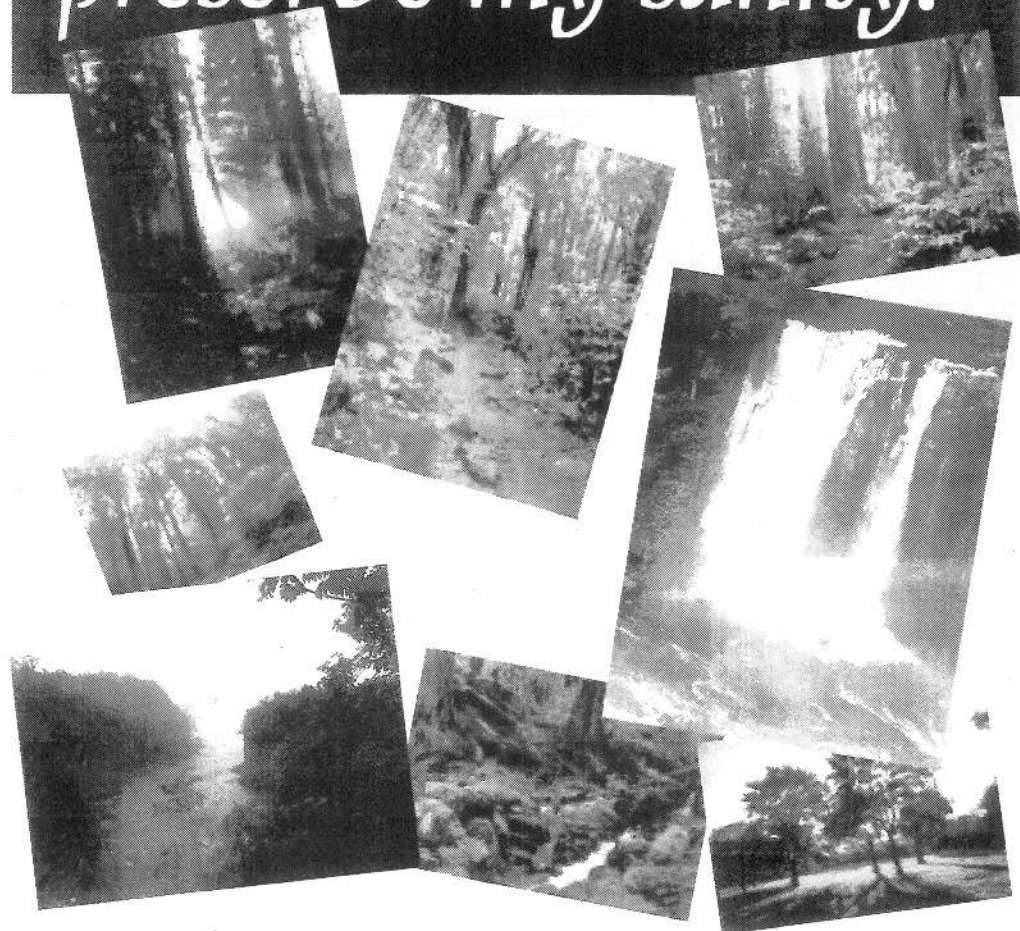

Not that we feel some kind of pressure that everything we do must be "stamped" as revolutionary but that's just who we are. Normally the things we do become sarcastic or ironic critiques, become protests of any kind, become political interventions. Nowadays even drawing a flower is revolutionary.

So we could be in touch with our true friends and participate in the virtual riots internet is a really good way to do it.

What we cannot stand is people using internet to get dates. What the fuck is this? Is it all about sex to you? That's why you put all that lipstick and make up and take photos exposing your body to the millions of perverts who check your MySpace (Fotolog, Blog, Website) everyday? You're so ridiculous with all your sexy positions and your "abandoned puppy eyes" look. Is that an invitation to fuck you? Because we'll gonna "fuck you" really bad if you don't get out of our faces. And you with your trendy bands t-shirt's and your stylish haircut and piercings? What the fuck do you want? You're all a fuckin' waste. Fuck Off and Die you Posers.

Sex you'll find it everywhere. What about true love? Where's the love? Even the so called "alternative people" are falling for that now. Your

"On a quiet high prairie I'd grow vegetables and preserve my sanity."

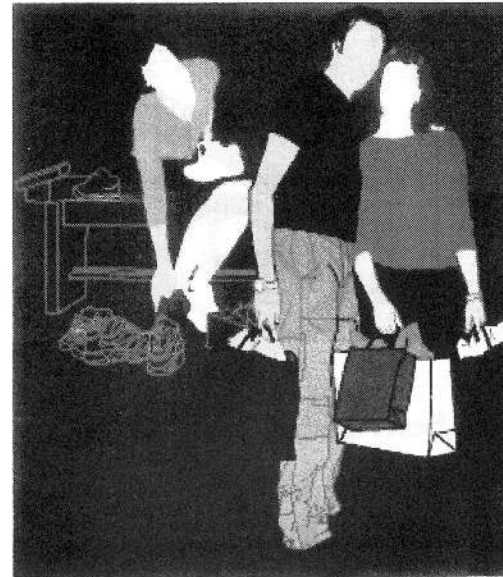

CITIES ARE FILTHY

If we take a look around we see that people are going nuts, people are going crazy. Cities suck all our energies away. We're all trapped in this daily life routine. We're slaves, prisoners, oppressed by this Capitalist Cannibal System. This is no life! Working a lifetime for what? For them? Wasting our youth, surviving at any cost, exchanging our lives for their dirty money. There must be another way... and there is!

Cities are filthy, not only because of the garbage we produce everyday but also "garbage" as publicity, religion, television, prejudice, traditions, society's laws and rules, etc.

We're not super heroes. Not even heroes. We're common citizens. This is real life - we have families, we work and we rent houses just like "everyone". Probably the only difference is that we're aware of what's happening around us. We have our eyes wide open to the millions of lies they tell us everyday.

FASHION VICTIMS MAKE MAKE SUCK

Lifeless body's floating across the streets in quest to their own identities. You're part of the Down Town Crowd - hypnotized living dead creatures marching like an army of empty souls. Shopping, buying, consuming, spending money on extras, parties, dates, sex, idle talk, clothes, perfumes, deodorants, unnatural crazy diets, shaving, haircuts, make up, accessories, drugs of all kind (narcotics, dumbness, apathy, prejudice...).

You feel like a star, the center of the universe. Important, special, part of the elite, a prince, a princess, riding the high horse. In your world status and snobishness walk together.

You look into mirrors a thousand times a day but even though you cannot see your true self. The mirror just reflects an egocentric human being with no personality. It's all about you, you, you and your shinning you but you're like an empty shell with no pearl inside.

You care too much about what the others say and think of you. Your outlook is your shield. You're all about showing off. You think you're an oasis but you're the desert.

You're fake like a pool playing the sea. You're sad like a slave who thinks her/his master is a good soul because that's the only reality she/he knows. Not that you see yourself as a faker or a sad person, of course not, you feel great and happy but you're living an illusion. All your new clothes and lifestyle makes you feel alive but that's just because you're already dead inside.

You've been blinded. You've been brainwashed by the system. They tell you to be eccentric otherwise you're no longer special. They give you the images for you to immitate, you must be slim and fit to fit in. They tell you to look good so you could have everything you ever wanted. They stimulate compulsive consumerism. They incite competition and egoism. They advice you to have superficial relationships based on sex appeal. They create social paltry games for you to play.

How come you consider pieces of fabric and everything around it more important than life itself? Fashion's such a strange human behavior. And what's fashion after all? A world of futility, materialism, consumerism, competition and lies.

SHOPLIFTING IS DIRECT ACTION

Five Finger Discounted

The uses and abuses of shoplifting

SHOPLIFTING is a weapon we can use against the "Almighty Powerful Gods" that rule the world. It's a weapon we can use against this Corporate System where money comes always first than people, the animals and Planet Earth. Shoplifting is one more weapon to FIGHT THE POWER!

We don't believe in cities but we still live here because urban areas are the battlefield of the war we're fighting.

We demand the impossible. Buying less & less and still get all the things we need to live: food, clothes and other stuff. Shoplifting is about stealing products but actually it feels more that we're stealing our lives back!

We'll look like they want us to look. We'll dress like they want us to dress. We'll behave like they want us to behave but only when we're playing their game because as undercover revolutionaries we are cheaters... and when we play, we play to win!

Shoplifting is a small, but yet efficient, slap on those dirty faces that lurk through the darkness of daily capitalism. It's a small slap on the face but at least is a slap. It's an action with direct impact on the companies we're stealing from. It's like going straight to the point. It's actually attacking the problem from its roots.

Product by product, step by step, slowly, we're bringing down their empire. We're damaging control. We're ruining their business. We know the target and we're hitting them where it hurts the most: their wallets. We're getting stronger and outnumbered.

Fuck the companies who've ruined our lives and health. They've no respect for the animals, the Earth or us so why should we have for them? It's a mind trap, a mind game they play so be aware.

Steal as much as you can. Stay active and live a rebellious and revolutionary life.

Fight for a better world.

SHOPLIFTERS TAKE OVER
PIMP THE SYSTEM
SHOPLIFTING IS POLITICS

We know that people are being exploited, animals being murdered and the Earth's being raped just for money. We try to support, as much as possible, the ones with a good heart and we try to boycott all the "filthy Companies". We avoid participating in capitalist's schemes but sometimes we're forced to.

We haven't been totally brainwashed. We're not robots, we still have feelings. We're the few who still stand for the Total Liberation of the people, the animals and the Earth. We believe in Nature. We believe in Social Revolution first and then in THE REVOLUTION. The flame of rebellion still burns inside. We fight with passion and we're committed to make a change in this world. We believe in violence because violence can be used for good: JUSTICE.

But here we are the generation that doesn't buy their lies. Their blood will die with them. We'll break the chains of oppression forever. We won't support their decaying culture. We're the seeds of the New World to come.

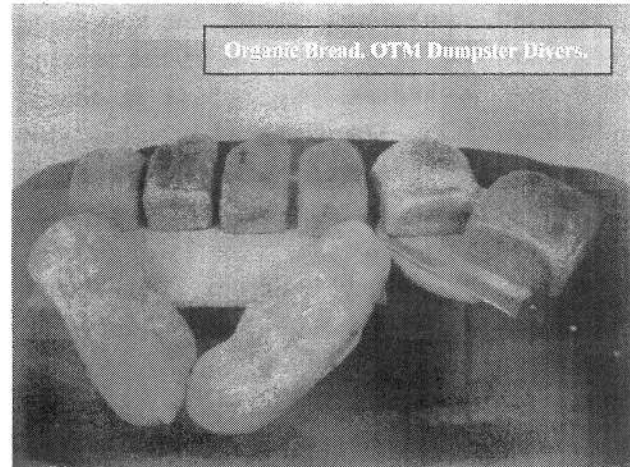

People shouldn't be afraid of their governments. Governments should be afraid of the people. Every System failed, not even one was successful and they still deny a FREE WORLD!

Here we stand to prove them wrong!

FILTHY MINDS BEHIND
FILTHY COMPANIES
PRODUCING FILTHY PRODUCTS ...
THAT'S CAPITALISM!

JAH PROVIDES THE BREAD

Everyone throw so much good stuff away so we see recycling as a need. We can find clothes, food and a lot of other things everywhere. In fact, we believe we can find almost everything in the garbage.

Instead of buying and consuming, instead of supporting those evil companies with our money we thrash their trash and get their products for free. Dumpster Diving along with shoplifting are effective weapons against this Capitalist Nightmare.

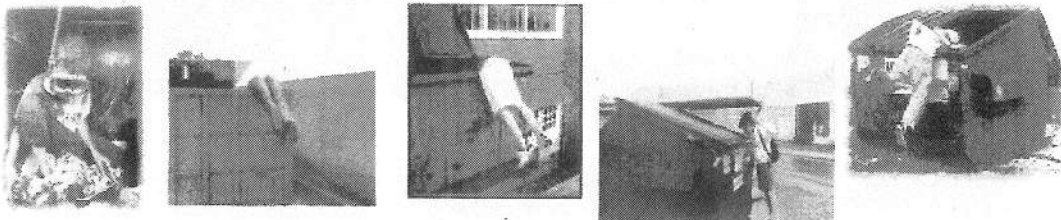

The best time to "attack" a dumpster is when the shop's already closed and before the lorry that's collecting the garbage passes by. A lot of food stores use to put some plastic bags outside on the sidewalk and that makes it even easier. Another place to find good food is in the street markets. Wait until they all go home and then just pick up all the fruits and vegetables they left behind (don't forget to wash it well because city streets are really dirty).

Sometimes we go for a walk or bike around the rich neighbourhoods and find amazing stuff. In those moments we feel like we're living from the leftovers and extreme superabundance of the bourgeoisie.

We always keep an eye open whenever we see a pile of litter because we never know what's waiting to be found.

It feels right when we Dumpster Dive. We have fun. It's like shopping for the Revolution. Dumpster Diving is Anti Capitalist Activism.
